OORAY! IRONTON AGAIN HAS HOPE OF GETTING A "REAL" CANNON

After many weary days and much heart-rending worry, Ironton's dream of perfect bliss is to become a reality, for it now seems the erstwhile Holo-In-The Ground hotel burg is to finally receive a rusty cannon from the kind and beneficent United States Government.

Former Congressman "Bob" Switzer tried to get a rusty one for Ironton in the closing days of his career, as a gift to his angry Ironton constituents, but failed. And now the Hon. Congressman "Izzie" Foster responds to the yearning desire of Irontonians and is trying to succeed where Bobbie failed so ignominiously. About "Izzie" and his efforts the Morning Irontonian says:

"If bills introduced by Congressman Israel M. Foster are passed, Ironton, Irontonville and Chesapeake will each receive one cannon or field-piece captured by the American Army from the forces of the Imperial German Government during the World War. Under the provisions of the bills which are identical except as to the beneficiary named, the county seat and the county's two largest villages will get captured cannon to be used for ornamental purposes. The bills presented by Mr. Foster have been referred to the committee on military affairs. Editor Harry Taylor of the Portsmouth Times is requested to take note of the fact that "Cannonville" will soon cease to be a misnomer."

It is supposed Ironton will have a huge celebration, when the rusty German derelict arrives, and it is urgently requested that the Editor of The Times be invited up to witness the display of civic pride over the accomplishments of her heart's desire. The Times suggests also that a tin statue of Hon. "Izzie" Foster be set up right alongside the rusty one, with the notable inscription "Izzie, He Done It" engraved thereon, that future generations may gaze, gasp and enthuse.

Judge Thomas heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Janie S. Stricklin, 1308 Front street, shoemaker, employed at the Selby factory, against William J. Stricklin, who resided at Ashland, Ky., when last heard from. Friday in Common Pleas court and then continued the case for further investigation.

They were married in Greenup county February 2, 1916, and she told the court that Stricklin left her the following May because she refused to go and reside with his parents. Judgment Awarded Judgment for the sum of $632.57 on a cognovit note was awarded by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday in favor of the plaintiff in the case of R. S. Pritchard against Charles White.

Ethel Johnson Seeks Divorce.
Alleging cruelty, neglect and infidelity, and declaring that he has threatened to kill her on various occasions, Ethel Johnson, Walnut street, East Portsmouth, seeks a divorce and alimony, with custody of their two minor children, aged 5 and 3 years, in an action instituted in Common Pleas court Friday against Seymour Johnson, railroad brakeman, whom she married January 3, 1915, at Ashland, Ky.

In her petition filed through Attorney Walter J. Dickey, the plaintiff complains that Johnson has at various times failed to provide for her and children or furnish them with a suitable home, claiming that she was compelled to rely on her own work for the support of herself and children, besides, she asserts, he has repeatedly struck and abused her and says that because of his aggressions she filed a suit for divorce last October, but later withdrew the action on his promise to do better. She then declares he failed to keep his promise and says that it was only a few days until he resumed his former abusive and cruel treatment.

A temporary injunction was allowed restraining the defendant from disposing of his property, including the home on Walnut street.

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or one unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can read. See how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to keep future generations of bedbugs, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery Pesky Devils Quiescus "P. portant meetings of the year. The honor guest and principal speaker of the evening will be J. H. Tregoe, Secretary-Treasurer of the National Association of Credit Men, who comes here from New York City for the occasion. There will also be music and singing and a splendid time is assured.

In securing Mr. Tregoe for the occasion, the local association is to be congratulated. He is a national figure in the credit field, and is unexcelled as a speaker. A close student of economics and a highly specialized observer of business conditions, Mr. Tregoe will bring a message of the greatest importance to the business men of this city, and the Portsmouth Association is sorry that restricted accommodations make it necessary to limit the number in attendance at this meeting.

The speaker has just returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast, following an extended trip through the South, and in addition the several sources of together with the things which must be done if this nation is to progress and prosper and to permanently maintain the position of leadership which has been assumed during the past four years.

T. H. Lanier, W. R. Goddard and J. B. Wiles heard Mr. Tregoe speak at Youngstown at the State Conference of Ohio Credit Men on March 23, and it is the united opinion of those in attendance at the state meeting that if Mr. Tregoe brings to Portsmouth the same sane and practical message which he delivered on that occasion, these in attendance will be amply repaid for their time.

President J. B. Wiles of the Portsmouth Association of Credit Men will preside at the meeting and the committee is preparing for some group singing to add to the occasion.

Mr. Tregoe will arrive at Portsmouth Saturday afternoon via the C. & O., where he will be met by some of the local officers. He will go into an executive session with the Board of Directors of the Portsmouth Association at 4 p. m. and continue until the general meeting and dinner at 6 o'clock.

Some FACTS About

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921 and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Delivered To Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883	57,208
FEBRUARY	35,305	63,603
MARCH	61,886	87,221
Total Production	127,074	Total Retail Sales 208,032

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

DYSPEPSIA IS GREATEST ENEMY OF MODERN MAN

Distressing Malady Is Most Prevalent of All Present-Day Diseases — Thousands Are Relieved By Tan-lac.

Of all the conditions that afflict humanity, chronic dyspepsia, or what is more commonly known as indigestion, is probably the most prevalent.

This most universal malady has baffled the medical profession for years, and the most skilled specialists have been unable to cope with it successfully.

Hours might be consumed in describing the sufferings, mental and physical, of the sufferers from chronic dyspepsia and their failure heretofore to get relief. A morbid, unreal, whimsical and melancholy condition of the mind, aside from the nervousness and physical suffering, is the usual condition of the average dyspeptic.

Dyspepsia, or indigestion, as the case may be, is usually caused by the eating of too much or unsuitable food, and the mucous membrane of the stomach becomes irritated, and there is set up an acute or sub-acute gastritis. A harmful condition which prevents the proper digestion of the food. This food is apt to ferment and decompose, and as a result the familiar distressing symptoms of dyspepsia may arise.

In mild cases there is nothing more than an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach, with a certain amount of depression, headache, loss of appetite, perhaps belching of gas and occasional vomiting. There may be also accompanying intestinal symptoms, such as constipation, pains in the back, colic, etc.

There may be only the familiar heartburn due to the inflammation of the stomach from excessive gases of fermentation or putrefaction. In the most severe cases—those that last over a day or two—the symptoms enumerated may be much more intense. The distress may be marked and the general constitutional symptoms more evident. When this stage is reached the loss of appetite, the mental depression, and the general uncomfortable feeling in the stomach are much more pronounced. This is particularly true in acute gastritis.

It frequently occurs from continued errors in diet that this condition becomes chronic, and the symptoms persist for an indefinite period. The appetite is very apt to be varied, but at times very good. Heartburn is frequent, if not constant. The stomach is painful on pressure, the tongue is coated, there is a bad taste in the mouth, and there are changes in the amount of salivary secretion. Constipation is also usually present, although diarrhoea may alternate.

Most cases of dyspepsia can be cured if the diet is properly looked after and with the proper amount of proper eating, the proper amount of food and hygienic living are the most important features of the treatment. Most people eat too fast and eat too much.

One noted authority has said that the stomach is the fountain head of health or disease, as the case may be. Tan-lac was designed primarily for the regulation of the stomach, liver and bowels, but it is no uncommon thing for persons who have used it to find that they have also been relieved of rheumatism and other ailments not generally recognized as having their origin in stomach trouble.

There is probably not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tan-lac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest the food, permitting the assimilation of the nourishing elements.

Millions of people have not only been relieved of the most obstinate forms of dyspepsia and indigestion by the Tan-lac treatment after other remedies had failed, but many of them have reported a remarkable and rapid increase in weight and a return to normal health and strength by its use.—Adv.

penses. The decision is partly a victory for the railroads and partly for the employees. What the outcome will be so far as railroad efficiency is concerned, depends upon the conference to be held.

The decision came just before the terms of three members of the board expired at midnight last night. These men, appointed for one year when the board was organized, are Henry Hunt, Cincinnati, one of the representatives of the general public; W. L. Park, Chicago, a railway representative; and J. J. Forrester, Washington, D. C., one of the labor members. Their successors have not been appointed and their places will be vacant because the act creating the board failed to specify that the members should continue in office until their successors qualified.

Last night's decision had nothing to do with the various wage conferences which have been instituted by various railroads within the last few weeks and some of which have already resulted in disputes that have reached the board. The rules' finding will affect pay envelopes only insofar as it results in modifications of regulations concerning what constitutes over time, defining just when a railroad man starts work and similar subjects.

The Sixteen Principles

The 16 principles laid down in the board's decision to govern the conference in new working agreements follow:

"1 An obligation rests upon management, upon each organization of employees and upon each employee to render honest, efficient and economical service.

"2 The spirit of co-operation between management and employees being essential to efficient operation, both parties will so conduct themselves as to promote this spirit.

"3 Management having the responsibility for safe, efficient and economical operation, the rules will not be restrictive of necessary discipline.

"4 The right of railway employees to organize for lawful objects shall not be denied, interfered with or obstructed.

"5 The right of such lawful organization to act toward lawful objects through representatives of its own choice, whether employees of a particular carrier or otherwise, shall be agreed to by the management.

"6 No discrimination shall be practiced by management as between members and non-members of organizations or as between members of different organizations, nor shall members of organizations discriminate against non-members or use other methods than lawful persuasion to secure their membership. Espionage by carriers on the legitimate activities of labor organizations or by labor organizations on the legitimate activities of carriers should not be practiced.

Should Consult Employees On Wages

"7 The right of employees to be consulted prior to a decision of management adversely affecting their wages or working conditions shall be agreed to by management. The right of participation shall be deemed adequately complied with, if and when, the representatives of a majority of the employees of each of the classes directly affected shall have conferred with the management.

"8 No employee should be disciplined without a fair hearing by a designated officer of the carrier. Suspension in proper cases pending a hearing which shall be prompt, shall not be deemed a violation of this principle. At a reasonable time, prior to the hearing, he is entitled to be apprised of the precise charge against him. He will have a reasonable opportunity to secure the presence of necessary witnesses and shall have the right to be there represented by counsel of his choosing. If the judgment shall be in his favor, he shall be compensated for the wage loss, if any, suffered by him.

"9 Proper classification of employees and a reasonable definition of the work to be done by each class for which just and reasonable wages are to be paid, is necessary, but shall not unduly impose uneconomical conditions upon the carriers.

"10 Regularity of hours or days during which the employee is to serve or hold himself in readiness to serve is desirable.

"11 The principle of seniority, long applied in the railroad service, is sound and should be adhered to. It should be so applied as not to cause undue impairment of the service.

Opposes Eight Hour Day

"12 The board approves the principle of the eight hour day, but believes it should be limited to work requiring practically continuous application during eight hours. For eight hours pay, eight hours work should be performed by all railroad

IODINE FOR RASHES AND SKIN TROUBLES

Quickly Stops All Irritation

For Skin Troubles that Distress and Disfigure, for Pimples, Old Sores, Chronic Ulcers, Bolls, Ringworm, etc., Iodine is an antiseptic and healing remedy largely used by physicians as well as Mothers who know from experience in raising their families, the virtues of Iodine. Pimples and skin trouble that itch and burn, that keep you awake nights and embarrass you by day, should be treated with Iodine to stop their spread and to heal. As a well known medical authority says, "Germs spread over the face and neck like a prairie fire, producing eczema."

But of course, you can't use organic Iodine. Good medical practice calls for Iodine in its best form—LANOLATED IODINE COMPOUND—an agreeable ointment with all the virtues of organic Iodine, but does not blister, and leaves scarcely a stain. It soothes, penetrates and heals.

Lanolated Iodine is a family remedy for every day use. Recommended not only for troubles of the Skin but Cuts, Sprains, Wounds and Bruises are happily relieved by this triumph of medical research devised for popular use. James A. Hager, Fisher & Streich, or any good druggist can supply you with a jar at little cost.—Adv.

employees, except engine and train service employees, regulated by the Adamson Act, who are paid generally on a mileage basis as well as an hourly basis.

"13 The health and safety of the employees should be reasonably protected.

"14 The carriers and the several crafts and classes of railroad employees have a substantial interest in the competency of apprentices or persons under training. Opportunity to learn any craft or occupation shall not be unduly restricted.

"15 The majority of any craft or class of employees shall have the right to determine what organization shall have the right to make an agreement which shall apply to all employees in such craft or class. No such agreement shall infringe, however, upon the right of employees not members of the union representing the majority to present grievances either in person or by representatives of their own choice.

"16 Employees called or required to report for work and reporting but not used, should be paid reasonable compensation therefor."

Hughes Knows How to Handle Press

There has been a good deal of trouble about press agents and publicity and propaganda. There will be no such trouble under Mr. Hughes. He is his own best spokesman. He gives the slant to the news of the day that he feels should be given. But his most signal service is foreseeing possible grounds for misunderstanding. He can see in a question asked by correspondents further ahead sometimes than the newspaper men themselves. A case in point was a rumor that the entire State Department was soon to be reorganized. Mr. Hughes admitted that such a plan was in contemplation but the thought flashed through his mind at once that even such an admission might be the basis for speculation and disturbing stories about personnel. He quickly explained that the supervisory personnel was all that could be desired—that in Under Secretary Fletcher, assistant secretaries Deering and Bliss and Director Carr of the consular service, the department had a splendid group of experts but that what remained to be done was co-ordinating the work of the bureaus and tying together certain activities that were related to each other but were separated at present.

ified with the progress made in the negotiations thus far with foreign Governments. The Department of State has had a different job—taking up the threads of a tangled international situation. But President Harding and Mr. Hughes have talked over the whole field of foreign affairs and Mr. Hughes knows the cardinal principles. With the same zeal and enthusiasm which has characterized his handling of big legal problems in the past, Mr. Hughes tackles each question in diplomacy with a rapidity and thoroughness that have already produced a favorable impression throughout the national capital. It is not usual to find early enthusiasm so quickly justified.

Note From France Triumph

The note from France is the first triumph. France admits that the handing out of mandates in the past was rather haphazardly done. The French have gone further in their informal oral expressions than in their note. They have said frankly that they didn't think it was becoming of the great powers to take advantage of America's absence from the conference by giving away territory without the express consent of the United States. There is as yet no acceptance or rejection of the principle stated in the American circular, namely, that the United States claims a voice in all matters growing out of the war whether or not the Versailles treaty is ratified. It is unlikely that the Allies will meet that question until they are obliged to do so. They will continue their replies merely to the case in hand—the status of Yap.

For the rights under the treaty, Mr. Harding's message has rendered a controversy on that point for the moment unnecessary, as the new administration now announces that it wishes to sign those portions of the Versailles treaty which do not entangle America in "undesirable commitments" concerning the future.

May Yet Go Part of League

In a nutshell things in the Department of State are moving along very well—indeed much better than had been expected. And with the words "League of Nations" are taboo, observers are daily finding ground for the suspicion that just as the Versailles treaty was finally regarded after careful examination by the Harding administration as an incapable basis for foreign policy, so will the existing league be found a basis for the new association of nations.

as the snows of her Norway hills, had probably given notice that morning, and he learned about women from her. Thanks for the compliment, but I cannot claim to be a psychologist. As to the answer, look in the fourth paragraph. It stands to reason that there can be no definite solution of the problem, for, as many believe, there are as many camps among the blondes as among the brunettes and as many level-headed persons on both sides. Why wouldn't I select a brunette jury among men? It is the consensus of opinion that there are a great many "red heads" in existence; and we come out about even on that score.

Miss Dolly Wise—As I have only been in Portsmouth about six months I am coming to you for help. When you please tell me who that nice looking lady is that rides down Chillicothe street in a Vellie auto. She is rather tall and wears glasses, has chestnut brown hair and always has it curled, has nearly looking teeth and is mostly by herself. I would like to know if she is married or single. She looks to be about 33 or 34 years of age. I tried to flirt with her once in the 10 cent store but she would not flirt. Now Dolly, I am 25 years of age. I make good wages and will make some woman a good good husband, so here is thanking you in advance. Respectfully yours.

SEEKING ACQUAINTANCE. Sorry I can't help you out there. There may be several Vellies in town, as many good looking women to drive them. She showed her good sense by not flirting with you, but I venture to say that if you keep on flirting with the girls that in time one of them will fall for it. Good luck, Willie.

BILLY WILKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"Which horse do you think he is after?" asked Billy, as he trotted back to tell Nannie what the thief was doing.

"Oh, for mercy's sake! don't let him steal that horse above all others, Violet loves him as if he were human. Hook him up on the weather-vane if you can, Billy. It would serve him just right," but to their dismay, while they stood whispering, the thief rode out of the barn on Frisky, whose feet he had muffled by tying them up in bags, so that the noise of the hoofs on the stones in the barn would not awaken the people in the house.

"Goodbye, Nannie, I am going to follow him and I'll get him yet when he dismounts to fasten the lunge gate that leads into the road."

So, swiftly and silently, Billy followed, but he was dismayed when he reached the gate to find it open. The thief had left it so on purpose.

"Well! If I can't catch him here I will tag him and get him somewhere else," thought Billy, "for he can't ride forever without getting off."

On, on, through the night went the black horse and the white goat, now running, now walking in the shadows and through the moonlight. No matter where you saw them they were together, with the white goat only a few yards behind. Many times the thief turned in his saddle to see if any one was following him, but all he saw was a white dog, as he supposed, the first time he turned. The second time he discovered it was a goat, so paid no attention, thinking the goat was only running along the road attending to its own business.

Yes, the goat was attending to its own business, but that business happened to be more closely connected with him than he knew.

After the thief had turned several times, he muttered, "I believe that blamed goat is following me after all. If it would not make such a noise and awaken some of the families around here, I'd put a bullet through him in quick order. I never before heard of a goat following a man like a dog."

The sounds of wheels was now heard on the road coming toward them, and the thief on hearing this turned quickly into a thick woods on the side of the road, while Billy stood in plain sight in the middle of it and blotted to the farmer in the wagon as he drove by to stop and tell Mr. West to follow the goat tracks in the road and he would find his horse. While he was listening to this, the farmer's horse whined in the woods.

It was Frisky calling to the farmer's horse, for she felt loneliness, alone in the woods with a stranger on her back. She had time to whiny only once, for the thief, on hearing it, jumped from her back and going to her head held her mouth shut with no gentle hand, so she could not do it again. When he did this, Frisky being unused to this kind of treatment, reared and jumped back, trying to get away, but the thief had too firm a hold on her bridle for her to break loose. All this commotion made a great deal of noise, as twigs were broken and bushes snapped beneath Frisky's feet. The thief was frightened for fear those passing on the road would hear and thinking something was amiss, came to see what it was.

Some one in the road did hear, but not the farmer. It was Billy, and he knew by the sound that there was a tussle going on, and hurried to the rescue.

The thief, listening, heard him coming and thought it must be some person, so jumped on Frisky's back and tried to ride farther into the woods, but she refused to go, for in his fright he was trying to ride her through some blackberry bushes, but were scratching her legs dreadfully. (Tomorrow finishes the thief's story.)

Louise Huff's Beauty Talks

That dainty and charming actress, Louise Huff, is famous for her beautiful complexion and as an author of the many articles on the subject of beauty, she has been persuaded to tell the readers of this paper how they may quickly acquire a soft, smooth, glowing complexion like hers. She says: "To get the best results the skin should be thoroughly cleansed, the pores opened and the complexion made as evenly as possible. This is accomplished by the use of Derrville, which can be obtained at the toilet counter of any up-to-date drug or department store. This is the only beauty cream which is actually and conclusively makes the results permanent. Over five hundred thousand girls and women are using Derrville in preference to face powder and other beautifiers and they are just as enthusiastically over it as Miss Huff. Get Derrville which she recommends and try it today, you will be delighted with it and acquire a complexion for which everyone will compliment you.—Adv.

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

SWITZERLAND

Through Switzerland they lifted from spot to spot, climbing the mountains and floating about on the many picturesque lakes. Gwendolyn was especially enchanted with a tiny little village, nestled at the far end of the Lake of Lucerne, called Brunnen. And here the party lingered for a week. The two girls bought innumerable souvenirs for the dear ones at home, and Gwendolyn wrote to her father that the simple homes and hearts of the village people in Brunnen reminded her of the folks in Vermont. "Same dear, old mountains, too, dolly dear; you'd love them so. And the moonlight on the water at night just seems to make your heart stand still for its beauty."

In answer to this letter Mr. Chandler sent back a substantial check, and a request that Gwendolyn send back a corner of one of the mountains to him. Then he went on to say that he and the missus were thinking of doing a bit of traveling themselves, before they died, which might be news to Gwendolyn.

"Wonder must be happening back home," said Gwendolyn to Fern after reading this astonishing piece of news. "Looks to me as if dad was actually happy, somehow or other."

"Everything's possible, I think in this old world of ours," said Fern thoughtfully. "Even after years of unhappiness people can turn round suddenly and be happy."

"Heard anything from John lately?" she asked suddenly.

"Yes, a letter this morning," answered Gwendolyn, flushing. "The dear boy seems taken with Italy, and tells me he'd like to settle there better than any other place—outside of his prairie country, in the west. John's loyal, I'll say."

"Dad he is, and in the end he'll probably wander back to the old folks at home, marry one of the home girls and live happily and uneventfully ever after."

"Do any merry one of the home girls, as you say, but I don't believe John would ever be satisfied with an uneventful life. Not after his many wanderings. He'd go back and stir the old town up a bit, and try to improve it, as well as the people, if he possibly could," said Gwendolyn with a smile. "He's so full of energy."

"I have a sneaking suspicion that John has some girl all picked out, already, that he's never told us about," said Fern, watching her cousin's face closely, as she hurried this bomb.

"Wouldn't doubt it a bit. John's close-mouthed about his affairs always, that's what I admire about him most," said Gwendolyn. "He's such a sensible young man and never flies off at a tangent, the way we do."

"H'm, he certainly isn't, when I knew him, though. But that's all long ago, and he has changed vastly since then. What makes you dislike John so, Gwendolyn?" she finished carelessly.

"I dislike John?" squeaked Gwendolyn indignantly. "Why, the idea. 'I'm fond of John,' and she stared in surprise as Fern went off into peals of laughter.

Here at Last-The Perfect Washing Machine

Faster — More Economical — More Durable — Simpler in Construction — Does Better Work.

"Easy" Vacuum Electric Washing Machine

PRINCIPLE—The "EASY" Vacuum Electric Washing Machine differs radically from other washing machines, because it operates on the principle of air pressure and suction. When washing machine is in operation, the two vacuum cups inside the tub move up and down 60 times per minute, taking a new position on each downward stroke. The air contained in the cups on the down stroke forces the soapy water through the mesh of the garments, while on the up stroke the cups suck the soapy water back through the mesh. This suction carries with it any foreign substance and dirt lodged in the mesh—it does not in the least injure the daintiest laces, flannels, lingerie, etc.; in fact it preserves them, there being no dragging, rubbing or jerking of the clothes over cleated or corrugated surfaces.

CAPACITY—10 sheets or 14 pounds of dry clothes.

SIMPLICITY—It is very simple to operate the "EASY" Vacuum Electric Washing Machine. In six to ten minutes after you have placed the clothes in the water, and turned on electric switch, the results will satisfy the most scrupulous housewife who prides herself on the snow-white appearance of her washing. There are only two levers—one stops and starts washing machine; the other operates wringer—either to start, stop or reverse.

COST OF OPERATING—It costs about one cent per hour for current to wash as much as good laundress will wash over the washboard in four hours.

This machine comes equipped with aluminum or ordinary wringer.

Enjoy Horseback Ride To The Carter Caves

Four young men, Dave Williams, Theron Matthews, Lowell Selby and Lyons Questiel, accompanied by Edward S. Gillman, took a week end trip last week, in the shape of a horseback ride to Carter Caves. Although it rained when they were going, and snowed when they rode back, they had a rattling good time. They mounted their fiery (and otherwise) steeds at Fullerton, at 8:00 a. m., Friday morning, and struck out for Carter, by way of Schmitt's Creek, and by noon arrived at Brimshart. Here they got such a good dinner they decided by unanimous vote to come back the same way. But when they went to saddle their horses, Ow-I-I-I! but how the rain was pouring. There was nothing to do but mount and go ahead. They struck over the hills to Carter City taking the short cut, but over the roads so bad that it would have been complaining them to call them trails, and that, in places were hard to distinguish from creek beds. But the rain had stopped before they reached Carter City, about six o'clock. All were stiff as the Crable Act, but Carter's lone hotel had gone out of business, so there was nothing to do but push on. The stars came out brightly and they pointed out and talked about Orion and Jupiter and Venus and Saturn in order to forget about the miseries of their pleasure ride as they swung to all four points of the compass, on the direct trail to the Caves. It was black as a hat before they reached the natural bridge close to the caves, which drops a sheer hundred feet or so on each side, with a nice hole in the middle to catch runaway travelers. Dave found the hole and just to show how deep it was rolled chunks of rock down it, and after listening five minutes or so, in the darkness, you'd hear them hit. Dave guided the rest around the hole and then the leader, confused by the blackness, rode almost directly into Saltpetre cave. The Vickers had long since gone to bed, but, no matter they were routed out, and shelter demanded. Vickers gave them the barn where they deposited their bedding and showed them where to put their horses. When they came back, they found a hog had taken possession of their bed room and it was a hard fight before it was finally decided who was to sleep there. The travelers got possession at last and made their beds for the night and as for supper—no one even mentioned that. But the night was not to be so peaceful. The four males, who shared the same shelter made such racket, sleep was almost impossible. When the ants settled down, a terrible rain-storm came up, and in as well. One hog, who was dreaming he was back in the happiest days of his life—those days spent in the trenches—woke up to find himself sleeping in a puddle of water. The rats came down to investigate the visitors, and in the early morning the hog broke open the door and made another fight to get possession of the bedroom, and it was a relief to all when Vickers came to call them to a breakfast of his hickory cured hams, and coffee.

The travelers got possession at last and made their beds for the night and as for supper—no one even mentioned that. But the night was not to be so peaceful. The four males, who shared the same shelter made such racket, sleep was almost impossible. When the ants settled down, a terrible rain-storm came up, and in as well. One hog, who was dreaming he was back in the happiest days of his life—those days spent in the trenches—woke up to find himself sleeping in a puddle of water. The rats came down to investigate the visitors, and in the early morning the hog broke open the door and made another fight to get possession of the bedroom, and it was a relief to all when Vickers came to call them to a breakfast of his hickory cured hams, and coffee.

All were in high spirits just the same, and during the day explored Laurel, Lost, Saltpetre and X caves, the water being too high to explore that cave. Dave Williams decided to see if he could follow the underground stream under the immense arch of rock that holds X cave, where it was said no one had ever been before. Trusting to luck to find enough air on the way he stripped to the buff and "waded in where glory awaited him" and actually succeeded in getting through, while Gillman carried his clothes around to the other side for him.

The next morning, just to make things interesting, it was snowing, but the party started back at 9:00 o'clock dodging Carter City and winding their way north through the desolate hills of Kentucky. Their hands were almost frozen, but it was Sunday and it was afternoon before they could find a store that would sell them a pair of gloves. The afternoon was a little colder yet, and it was a stiff and sore bunch who reached Fullerton at six-thirty. Matthews was still more out of luck, for a freight train cut him and his horse off from the lower ferry, and he had to wait till eight o'clock for the next boat. But on the whole it was a mighty enjoyable trip and certainly something different from their everyday work which is what the boys were after.

Greeks Score Victory Over Turk Troops

ATHENS, April 15.—Thirty thousand Turkish troops directed by Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, and supported by strong detachments of cavalry and artillery, attacked the Greeks in the Afium-Kharahisar and Toulounbazar sections with the intention of cutting off the Greeks from their base at Afium-Kharahisar, according to semi-official reports from Smyrna today. The attack broke down completely before the Greek counter attacks, the Turks withdrawing. The Greeks took six thousand prisoners, and captured five guns and twelve machine guns.

Haverhill Shoe Manufacturers Would Cut Wages

Haverhill, Mass., April 15.—The Shoe Manufacturers' Association today submitted to the Shoe Workers' Protective Union a request that price lists calling for wage reductions ranging from 20 to 25 per cent be submitted to the union. Such reductions were said to be necessary to the business life of the city. Present price lists expire April 30. The cutters have announced that they will ask an increase of $5 a week, making the weekly pay $50, and to 14 per cent increase on piece work.

Some FACTS About Ford

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921 and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Delivered To Retail Customers
JANUARY	29,883	57,208
FEBRUARY	35,305	63,603
MARCH	61,886	87,221
Total Production	127,074	Total Retail Sales 208,032

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

Can Openers vs. Paint Students

Every spring a new crop of can openers appear. They know nothing except to open a can of paint and spread it on, and care for nothing because they are only here a short time and have nothing to lose. The paint student prepares each coat to meet the conditions of the surface—so that it will leave a proper surface for repainting. He expects to be in business when that house is repainted and hopes to make a permanent customer.

ELECTRIC AND OSTEOPATHIC THERAPEUTICS

In order to further aid myself in combating disease in a thorough, scientific, modern, drugless method I have installed a complete electrical outfit. This includes the "High Frequency" current, "Violet Ray," "O'Arsonal Ray" and the "Sinusoidal Ray." I have the latest model Electric Cabinet Bath and Shower for sweating. Electrical treatment is highly recommended in such diseases as Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, Paralysis, High Blood Pressure, Anemia, Insomnia, Toxemia, La Grippe and General Nervous Debility.

The main Osteopathic Theory is integrity of structure, that is every body part must be in perfect relation to every other part to establish perfect, uniform, body function. This is especially true of the spine. It is from the spine the entire nerve supply of the body arises. And since every tissue and organ must have a normal nerve supply to function properly the anatomy of the spine must be in perfect adjustment. Having four years professional training you will find the Osteopath capable of scientifically and painlessly adjusting the spine or any other part of the anatomy.

I use electricity and osteopathy separately or in combination as the case may demand.

Has Right Idea

The success of the Y. W. C. A. membership drive would be without question, should every minister in the city follow the plan adopted by Rev. N. J. Butler, pastor of Trinity church, who is making an effort to get every girl and woman in his church to take out a share of interest or membership in the Y. W. C. A. in order to help the membership campaign committee get the needed 2,000 members.

THE MOVIES

A Perfect CrimeA Comedy Drama
by Carl Clausen

The romance of a make-believe bank robber

At the Eastland Theatre for two nights, starting tonight, with Matinee Saturday, Allan Dwan presents Monte Blue in Carl Clausen's Saturday Evening Post story "A Perfect Crime," an Entertaining, Pleasing Comedy Drama in 6 Acts.

PROGRAM

A—Overture "Wang Wang Blues"—Eastland Orchestra.
B—Pathe Review in Pathoscopes.
C—"His Four Fathers"—A Christie Comedy.
D—Rush Orders with Sam Pollard—A Rollin Comedy.
E—Allan Dwan presents "A Perfect Crime" with Monte Blue.
Allan Dwan has returned to his first love comedy drama in producing "A Perfect Crime," his second Associated Producers' release, which comes to the Eastland theatre tonight, row.
Belished it with sound philosophy, provided plenty of romance, humor and pathos and turned out the best comedy drama of his career.
The story line for its hero the greatest liar on record, Baron Munchausen himself was a rank amateur compared to Wally Griggs. And Wally is so proficient in the art he lies his way to success.

For in the beginning he is a poor bank messenger (think groveling and dejected, earning $20 a month). He is disgusted because bank officials endeavor to make him a thief by placing money about where he can steal it.
Wally revolts. If they expect him to be a thief, he'll be one, and he plans a cunning robbery.
In establishing his new identity it is necessary for him to lie. He lies magnificently and impressively.
Does he rob the bank?
It would be unfair to tell you. But he does steal a girl's heart. Monte Blue is the hero of the story and Jacqueline Logan, a former Ziegfeld girl plays opposite him.

WOUND IS FATAL

HUNTINGTON, April 15—Fred Wilson, 35, a machine runner, employed by the Main Island Creek Coal Company at Stitts, Logan county, died at 7:30 o'clock last night at the Kessler-Hatfield hospital here from the effects of a pistol wound said to have been inflicted by Deputy Sheriff Joe Hatfield, a son of the late "Devil Anse" Hatfield.
Deputy Sheriff Hatfield, who furnished bond in the sum of $5,000 after the incident, is understood to claim self-defense.

Reports of the encounter are to the effect that Wilson, after attacking Crockett Hatfield, a watchman employed by the coal company at Stitts, also attacked Deputy Sheriff Hatfield. The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heild of Walnut street. Final arrangements were made for the district rally to be held with Millbrook council on June 10th and 11th. SOCIETY

W. W. Weber of Eighth and Chillicothe streets has returned from a visit to friends in Spartanburg, N. C.

The marriage of Mrs. Flora Belle Wingo of South Portsmouth to Mr. John Oliver of Williamson, W. Va., took place Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Gast of the South Portsmouth Christian Church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver will leave Sunday for Pittsburgh to visit Mrs. Oliver's son, John Wingo. They will remain in Pittsburgh until next fall, when they will return to spend the winter at South Portsmouth.

Responses received thus far indicate a good attendance at the Knight Templar dance next Wednesday, April twentieth, at the Bessman Academy, and the committee suggests that responses be mailed at once so the proper provision can be made for those expecting to attend. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season. We understand the ball will open with the Grand March promptly at nine and this will eventually blossom into a waltz circle so that every one will have an opportunity to meet every one else early in the evening and all make for the full enjoyment of the occasion.

The atmosphere of the Orient prevailed at the luncheon in Mrs. George Appel's home Thursday, when the Art Circle members were guests. Luncheon was announced by three dainty Oriental maidens, Miss Katherine Appel, in a Chinese costume of black satin, Miss Lena Appel in embroidered Japanese attire, and their cousin, Miss Louise Stephan, of Cincinnati, in lavender Jap kimono.

The luncheon table was gay with curios from China and Japan, the place-cards being Japanese maids with parasols, and the favors tiny letter openers of mother-of-pearl which the hostess brought from Jerusalem, where she visited on her trip around the world.

In turn, the members bade farewell to Mrs. Albert Marting, who leaves tomorrow for a three months' trip abroad.

The Phi Beta Pi girls of Trinity Church will give a play called "The Old Century Club" next Thursday, April 28, at the church.

The baby daughter born Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holland of Third street has been named Pearl Frances.

Miss Helen Davis of Vanadium is here for a week-end visit with Miss Helen Dillon of Fifth street.

Mrs. S. C. Cole and Mrs. Harry Howe of Robinson avenue have gone to Columbus, being called there on account of the death of a relative, Mrs. Sara Belle Smith, wife of the late J. O. Smith, formerly of this city.

Mrs. Frank Aitken of Columbus came today for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hauck of Offshore street, having accompanied Carl Hauck home from a brief stay there.

Earl Higgins of South Point has gone to Bristol, Tenn., to be at the bedside of his father, Mr. William Higgins, who is seriously ill.

The Woman's Relief Corps will meet Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the library.

The Novello Sextette played last evening for the Elks' regular informal dance which was attended by a large number of young folk, who danced away the merry evening from 8:30 until midnight.

and Mrs. J. Warren Murray of Baldwinsville, Mrs. A. Scudder Moore left today for her home at Brockton, Mass. Enroute Mrs. Moore will remain until Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kennedy of Columbus.

Eagles To Burn Mortgage, Revamp Building

At the weekly meeting of the Eagles Thursday night the house committee announced that plans had been made to take up the mortgage at once and that the committee had also prepared plans for many changes in the building at Second and Conet streets.

A big meeting will be held in May at which time the mortgage will be burned. The changes in the building call for improvements on the fourth floor and probably improvements in the basement where howling alleges could be located.

Mr. Foster Krake, soloist and musical director, will conduct a half hour of congregational singing, that will demonstrate the splendid possibilities of that form of community music. In addition his voice will be heard in two ensemble numbers—with Mrs. O. J. Ditzler and Mrs. Chas. L. Storck in a trio, "Ye Fields of Light," by E. Miller, and with Mrs. Ditzler in a duet, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah," and in a tenor solo.

Fronts of the A. W. Staker meat market, 1424 Ninth street, and the Henry Knost, grocery, Ninth and Offene streets, were badly damaged, drivers of the Seventh street fire company's aerial ladder truck were injured and the ladder truck was damaged, this morning about 11:15, when the steering gear post of the truck snapped and caused the machine to hurdle the street curbing and crash into the front of the meat market. The fact that the men on the truck stuck to their posts on the big machine probably saved them from more serious injury. William Osborn, main driver, Walter Lauter, assistant driver, were cut with glass from the plate glass window and Edward Hubert, rear driver, was bruised in being shaken about in his seat. According to Osborn, it was almost a miracle how they escaped being killed or dangerously injured.

The damage to the truck is slight. The greatest damage is to the meat market building and the grocery store. An entire new front will have to be put in the meat market, and probably a new front in the grocery store. The grocery occupies a brick structure, the front wall being cracked in several places the result of the wreck.

According to Driver William Osborn, the truck was responding to the alarm turned in from Eleventh and Lincoln streets. He said that he made the usual speed up Ninth street, but slowed down as he approached Offene here in order to make the turn to go north on Offene. Fully 100 feet this side of the corner, the steering gear post snapped and caused the machine to swerve to the right side of the street. Osborn did not know what had happened, and thought that the rear driver had probably turned the wrong way, while Hubert on the rear end, says he was thinking the same of the front driver.

Osborn applied the emergency brake, but just about that time the truck hit the curb and sent him from his seat, his foot leaving the clutch, which caused the machine to shoot ahead, although the emergency brake was on. Osborn was tossed from his seat onto the hood of the machine. He was kept from falling off the truck by Walter Lauter, who grabbed him as he fell.

The heavy truck hit a tree fifteen feet from the meat market, then jumped the curb, snapping off an electric light company pole at the ground and continued on its diagonal course until it hit the east window of the meat market. The right front wheel climbed the step into the meat market and went about two feet inside the door. This brought the bumper of the machine at least six feet inside the meat market. It hit the east front corner of the meat market and pushed a heavy upright timber over against the west front wall of the Knost grocery. A number of jars of jam, jelly, preserves and mustard were sent crashing to the floor from shelves on the west side wall. The frame work that forms the display part of the front window of the grocery was shoved six inches to the east, the front part of the grocery being sprung enough to prevent the front door from closing.

Luckily for A. W. Staker and helper, Ora Call, were in the back room of the meat market rendering aid when the crash came. Mr. Staker said the entire building shook as if there had been an earthquake and he first thought there had been an explosion.

Mr. Knost was at dinner at the time of the accident, his clerk, Miss Maude Workman being in charge of the door. She was in the back part of the store at the time but the shock caused her to suffer a nervous breakdown, she is just getting over a six weeks' illness.

In getting the truck backed out of the meat market the flow was given in several places by one of the front wheels. The truck was later taken to the Seventh street engine house on its own power.

After the sidewalk in front of the business places had been cleared of the debris that quickly gathered, the firemen tore down a number of loose bricks from the front wall of the grocery.

Driver Osborn's head was protected from the broken glass by his helmet, the cuts he sustained being over the left eye and on the second finger of his left hand. He was treated by Dr. A. R. Mills at the office of Dr. Tunk Nimmerman on Offene street. Lauter and Hubert did not consult a physician, Lauter getting a small cut on his arm and Hubert being bruised about the hips.

Henry Knost, grocer, thinks the firemen have a "pick" on him. He was seriously injured several years ago when his Ford machine and a fire truck crashed at Twelfth and Waller streets.

Cleveland Courts

CLEVELAND, O., April 15.—Members of the Cleveland Bar Association have under consideration a proposal to raise a fund up to $20,000 to permit constant investigation into the procedure of local courts.

The suggestion follows revelations made yesterday by the grand jury in which indictments were returned against eight persons, including William H. McGaughan, former chief justice of the municipal court, and seven others identified with either the first or second trial of McGaughan on a charge of second degree murder, of which he was acquitted. These indictments allege perjury or intimidation of witnesses.

FOSTER KRAKE TO SING AT ALL SAINTS'

Foster Krake, the baritone soloist about whom so many musically inclined folks are talking, and to whom frequent reference has been made in these columns for days past, will sing a solo at the 10:30 service at All Saints' church Sunday. He has selected as his contribution to the evening's worship the beautiful number "Out of the Depths," by John Pennington Scott. The popular and talented soloist for Wilton will also assist the choir on this occasion. The Rector desires that all who can attend this service will come to show their appreciation of the efforts made by these gentlemen to create interest in good music. There will be other special music at this service including the rendition of the beautiful "The Deane." All are heartily invited to attend any service at All Saints' church.

To Meet Monday

The class for training of volunteer song leaders, which Mr. Foster Krake will conduct for two weeks, beginning next Monday evening, at 7:30 p. m., at All Saints' Parish House, presents Portsmouth people a rare opportunity for personal profit and also a great responsibility for service.

The enthusiasm which many are already manifesting in connection with the coming May Festival brings into prominence the importance of this training class. It has been the experience everywhere, we are informed, that as the community work gets under way there comes an increasing and insistent demand for song leaders.

OBITUARY

Ruth Pusateri
Word was received today by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pusateri of Second street of the death of their granddaughter, Ruth Pusateri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Pusateri of Jackson, who died Thursday in a Columbus hospital, the result of an operation. She was 16 years of age and was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Pusateri, who are well known here.

Mrs. Joe Pusateri, the grandmother, left today for Jackson. Gus Pusateri of Chillicothe street is an uncle of the girl. The grandfather is ill at his home on Second street.

Baby Lewis
The home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lewis, 905 1-2 Chillicothe street, was cast in sorrow Wednesday night about seven o'clock with the death of their ten day old son, Harry Lewis. The child was buried Thursday afternoon in Greenlawn. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have many friends in this city who will sympathize with them in the death of their baby.

can be met only by training volunteer leaders. A very large number of American people, everywhere, want to sing together, but they cannot sing without being directed. Many who have the desire to direct that singing do not know how. They are engaged in various occupations and professions, but have the spare time in the evening, and a real desire to render service to their community. The song leaders' school enables all such persons and Portsmouth has a large number, to acquire within a few weeks and without expense the elements of community song-leading.

The May Festival will no doubt be a big affair and the pity will be that the high school stage, even though enlarged, will hold but two hundred voices. But the continuance of the community singing in Portsmouth after this event is past and this is the important thing, will largely depend upon the number and spirit of the volunteer leaders. Those, therefore who feel the call to service in the leading of song in large groups or small, or who merely feel they would like to know how to do it, are urged to attend the class on Monday night.

Good leaders are helpless without proper accompanying. A class for this branch of music will therefore also be conducted at the same hour, and a cordial invitation issued for those who enjoy this work to learn how to do it effectively and well.

The two classes, for song leaders and accompanists, and the chorus for the May Festival, will all meet Monday night at the All Saints' Parish House, at seven-thirty, with Mr. Krake directing.

All Agreed.
"Did you speak to father about me, Arthur?" asked the girl. "Yes, I did, dear, and he agreed with me heartily," replied her wooer. "Then he said I might marry you?" "Why—er—no. I didn't quite get so far as that. I just said you were a fine girl."—London Answers.

FIRE DESTROYS AUTO, SHED

A fire of unknown origin destroyed a two story frame shed in the rear of the Mrs. Anna Nouron home, 1534 Eleventh street, and a 1920 Chevrolet touring car belonging to Charles Lauter, about 11:45 Friday morning. The machine was kept in part of the stable, Lauter rooming at the Nouron home.

John Bahner, who lives on the rear of a lot at 1534 Twelfth street, had his furniture damaged by water, the flames leaping across the alley and setting fire to part of his home. Several small sheds in the vicinity were set on fire by sparks.

The machine was washed and put away about three o'clock Thursday afternoon and no one had been to the stable since that time. The fire had gained rapid headway before it was discovered by Mrs. C. D. Cissam, a neighbor.

Mrs. Nouron had insurance on the stable and Lauter had insurance on his automobile.

The Bahner home is a two story brick of five rooms. The family was at home at the time and succeeded in removing some furniture. Furniture on the second floor was damaged by water. The fact that the property is of brick and has a tin roof saved it from more serious damage. Bahner does not have insurance on his household effects. Dr. L. D. Allard owns the Bahner home.

Hazelbeck will insure you.

In Maysville Jail

YANCEBURG, April 15.—Sheriff Bertram went to Portsmouth yesterday and brought down William Teets, who is wanted for shooting ex-Marshall W. D. Hendrickson. There was another charge against him in police court on which he was out on bond. Police Judge Bertram convened his court on the street at the depot and waived his right to try him, but released Teets' bondsmen from liability, thus ending a wrangle of many months standing. Teets was ordered taken to Maysville jail for safe keeping, as he has a habit of not staying put.

Jackson Team Here Sunday

The lid will be pried off the local baseball season next Sunday afternoon when the strong Jackson Independent team will clash with the N. & W. Sunday club at the Industrial League pasture on Findlay street.

The battle, which will start promptly at 2:30, promises to be a lively affair as much rivalry exists between the two outfits by reason of several hot scraps on the diamond last year. The teams are evenly matched and both sides will present their strongest players in a highly effort to get the "win" by taking the opener.

A big crowd of fans are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to see these crack teams in action. The local team will present: pitcher, Spencer; and Waite, pitcher; Stillwell, catcher; Barber, first base; Goode, second base; Doherty, shortstop; Valodin, third base; Smith, outfield; and Shoemaker, outfielders; Grinnin and Corritto, utility.

MESSAGE NEEDS ELUCIDATION

JUDGING from the utter lack of enthusiasm in their comments and any warmth of commendation, metropolitan papers, quite unanimously Republican, are disappointed in President Harding's first message to congress. Perhaps, this is because after all their jibes and imitations Wilson in personally delivering it to the senate and his recommendations in strength, clarity and postivity of presentation compare ill with those of his predecessor.

But while it is evident that the President has not yet determined definitely upon the terms of his program there is much in it to gratify the rabid partisan and a good deal to satisfy every citizen.

The League of Nations is thrown bodily overboard, but there is a half effort to rescue it with an association of nations, or else "a unity of understanding between the five dominant powers, America, England, France, Italy and Japan."

The national debt is to be refunded, "a rigid hand is to be kept on expenditures," and taxes are to be reduced—maybe.

Farm product prices are to be sent up, more and immediate protection to be given, the railroad situation is going to be solved and operations to be placed on a sound and profitable basis.

All this and much more, but how it is to be done we are not told. Still it is more constitutionally within the hands of congress to provide the machinery to move to the end suggested.

And right here comes the finest assurance of the message. It shows comprehension of the needs of the country, it parades no master mind to point the manner in which the problems they present may be solved, it waves no magic wand to brush them out of the way.

No, the problems are being met cautiously, considered slowly and quietly as is the wont of Warren Gamaliel Harding, and that is encouraging that the best way out may be eventually found.

The soldiers' bonus, and river improvement are live subjects to which the message does not make so much as a passing reference, and the ever present matter of relations with Mexico is also altogether ignored.

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

THE unique spectacle of union labor and big industrial interests standing side by side in defence of a measure that deeply concerns both, was witnessed, this week, at Columbus.

It was the continuing fight on the workman's compensation act, the finest bit of constructive legislation ever enacted by the assembly, that brought them together to common purpose, he defeat of a proposed amendment thereto. Each interest is satisfied with the act as it is and as it has been operated. The liability insurance companies are not and they are constantly seeking to undermine it, fearing the spread of this most beneficent statute to other states.

A remarkable feature of the committee hearing of the amendment was the calm statement, that Governor Davis had sanctioned the introduction of the amendment, but now considering his obligation to the liability companies fully discharged, he had withdrawn his support and would leave the amendment to its regrettable fate. A complete admission that the divers whisperings that passed over the state to the effect that the compensation act was in deep peril had a very real foundation.

Well, indeed, it is, that Governor Davis regards his "obligations" so easily and quickly discharged; otherwise there would be a nasty row on hand.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The Sibley Service, Gallipolis, Ohio
By W. G. SIBLEY

We receive with some incredulity a statement that the President has promised to wear a white carnation every day during the next four years. It may be that some man really had the impertinence to ask such a pledge—carnations are persistent—but some morning Mr. Harding may prefer a geranium, or a few violets, or that loveliest of buttonhole adornment, a half open moss rose. Let us have freedom of choice in this matter.

Too many men, straining through long years to insure comfort during old age by accumulating money do not get comfort because in their hurry they neglected the physical requirements for comfort and the mental habits to occupy their time when old age began to limit their circle of their activities.

Tossing The Boy Overboard
General Garfield, like most of our Presidents, wrote and uttered many wise things. He was a big man, physically and intellectually, and always looked well fed, being bearded he had every sign of great vigor. On one occasion he made this remark:

"Poverty is uncomfortable, as I can testify, but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself. In all my acquaintance I never knew a man to be drowned who was worth saving."

But Garfield's notion is not popular with parents, and conflicts with all the impulses of love. None of us want our sons to undergo the hardships or discouragements we have suffered. We want them to work, to learn, and to be useful, and we help them according to our ability to acquire security from poverty.

The rich man may occasionally toss a son overboard for his good, but there is always the determination to come for him at the finish, to save him from a knock-out, to shield him from poverty. This may not be the best for the boy, but it is best for the parent. A world deprived of the tender love of parents, in which boys were left to struggle for themselves, with no hope of aid from their parents, might be a fine one for the boys, but it would be a dismal place for their natural protectors. Human nature, with that rich streak of paternal love which softens it, will not stand for Spartan ideas in the training of youth.

Chasterton on a desert island would take three books with him—a Bible, a Shakespeare, and a copy of Pickwick Papers. Perhaps Omaha would be his desert, at least it might qualify in absence of admiration for the English humorist.

The Unskilled Worker
This is a hard lot if we may believe statistics, for he is the first workman to be laid off the job and the last to get back. His largest earnings come in his thirties and at fifty he is all in, as a rule. He lives poorly and ages early—not a good prospect for any man. But often he does better in early

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

CALIFORNIA, April 15—Today I learned to pronounce Los Angeles. A Los Angeles newspaper gives the pronunciation at the head of its editorial column. Thus: Loce Ahng-hay-las. It is a thriving metropolis, boasting a population of more than 700,000, and it has its Broadway just like New York, although not quite so wide.

The cigarette has not made such headway out here, and tobacco chewing is not frowned upon. There are also fewer belted coats, trick mustaches and white spats and the citizens milling and jostling about in the downtown section have sepia complexions.

Weather is quite a topic of conversation. Four people asked me if I didn't think it was an "unusual day." To one of my unbecomingly mentally all days are pretty much alike, except the sun was making me blink more than usual.

The movie palaces open early and close late. Long lines of people stand waiting. Los Angeles is filled with movie fans, but they do not turn their heads when Mary Pickford or Charlie Chaplin brush by on the paves. There is another earthquake back east, according to the howling newscasts. They seem to be quite a sad back home since I left.

One might imagine that flowers are given away out here, but I paid the same price for a bouquet of violets that they charge at a Fifth Avenue shop in New York. But food is much cheaper, and I prefer food to flowers at all times.

Los Angeles is not without its underworld. Confidence men thrive here. Peaceful middle-west farmers, who have made their fortune, come out here to live quietly, and scarcely a week passes without one of them being the victim of a film-film game. One is now in court explaining how he was gyped out of $51,000.

Marjorie Rameau is playing at a local theatre. She is quite popular and has issued interviews to all the newspapers, declaring her "love" for my wonderful home state, where the people are real and where the sun always shines. Ain't that nice?

While waiting for my wife in front of a Los Angeles department store a stranger edged up and inquired the time. He was quite friendly and said I looked like a cousin of his from Centralia, Mo. I think he took me for one of the "peaceful middle-west farmers," so I urged him on to see just what his name might be. It developed that he was a copper for a sight-seeing lms.

The residential section of Los Angeles is magnificent and beautiful and it is easy to understand why Easterners build such fine homes on the palm-lined avenues. Los Angeles is filled with too many boosters. It does not need boosting. I did not hear a single booster at Pasadena or the other southern California resorts. They appear indigenous to Los Angeles.

There is a Japanese section in Los Angeles—much like New York's Chinatown—narrow, crooked streets and old frame buildings with feeble lezenges of light. Trade was very dull. In all of the shops we visited we were the only customers. "Business very bad," one merchant said. After a time one begins to feel the resentment of California against the invasion of Japanese. It is indefinable, but the undercurrent is there.

While waiting for my wife in front of a Los Angeles department store a stranger edged up and inquired the time. He was quite friendly and said I looked like a cousin of his from Centralia, Mo. I think he took me for one of the "peaceful middle-west farmers," so I urged him on to see just what his name might be. It developed that he was a copper for a sight-seeing lms.
